

Personal DailyWalk

August 27-September 2, 2018

Monday: Genesis 4:6-7 Anger and sin. Do you find yourself being angry with God, only to realize that maybe your anger has more to do with your sinful nature than God's acceptance? Google image verse 7. They show great visuals of sin lurking at the door. Pray for God's strength and patience to help you master your sinful nature so that the Spirit of God may dwell in you.

Tuesday: Psalm 34 Sing this Psalm, praising God for His steadfast love and protection.

Wednesday: Romans 6:1-14 We want to live in God's grace, but it is so hard to let go of the sin/desire that still tries to take root in our hearts. Remember from Monday, sin lurking at the door just waiting for an opening? Pray for the heart of God to take dominion over you.

Thursday: Philippians 4:8-9 Our thoughts are important not only to ourselves, but also to the Spirit of God inside us. Pray for a mind pleasing to the Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ.

Friday: Psalm 51 My favorite Psalm! I need daily cleansing and pardoning. As much as I want to keep sin on the other side of the door, and as much as I want a pure and loving heart, and as much as I want the honorable things on my mind, I still seem to have the dirt of this world seep in. Pray in this Psalm, singing 'Create in me a clean heart O God.'

Saturday: Philippians 2:12-18 Shine, Jesus Shine! Is the light of Christ beaming out of you and into this world? Be the light – pray for God to work through your hands, your feet, and your life for all the world to rejoice.

Sunday: 1 Peter 1:13-16 Have you heard this call to Holy Living? Is there anything in your life that is impeding your ability to answer this call to Holy Living? Pray, asking God to show you what Holy Living means for your life.
